"Any morning before School" could well be the title of our cover for this 1950 issue of the EASTONIAN. This is a familiar scene to students and faculty. Situated on a hill overlooking the downtown section, the school is one of the most beautiful in the city. No attempt is made to identify the students in the picture as they may very well be YOU, AND YOU, AND YOU!

Then and Now! 1926-1950

At Mid-Century, East High School stands with the other schools in America as the hope for the preservation of the democratic spirit. The school's motto, "Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You" expresses the spirit that is so needed in our world today.

In its twenty-four years, East High School, under the leadership of Mr. Clifford H. Nowlin, its first principal, Mr. J. Lyman Laughlin, Mr. W. W. Clement and Mr. C. O. Williams, has had as its central purpose, the welfare of all the people. Under its banner of green and black, the school has sought to provide equal educational opportunity for all, regardless of intelligence, race, religion, social status, economic condition, or vocational plans. The curriculum has encouraged free inquiry and inventiveness as the best roads to progress.

The school has endeavored to give to all, the right to obtain reliable information, the right to form and express through discussion individual opinions, the right to try to persuade others, the rights of peaceable assembly, freedom of religion, and the right to impartial justice in accusation and judgment.

In the conduct of its affairs, the school has stressed the ideas that every privilege has a corresponding duty, every authority a responsibility, every responsibility an accounting to the group which granted the authority.

As Kansas City celebrates its centennial year, East High School, although faced with many discouraging problems, continues to challenge youth with the hope of building a society "with liberty and justice for all."

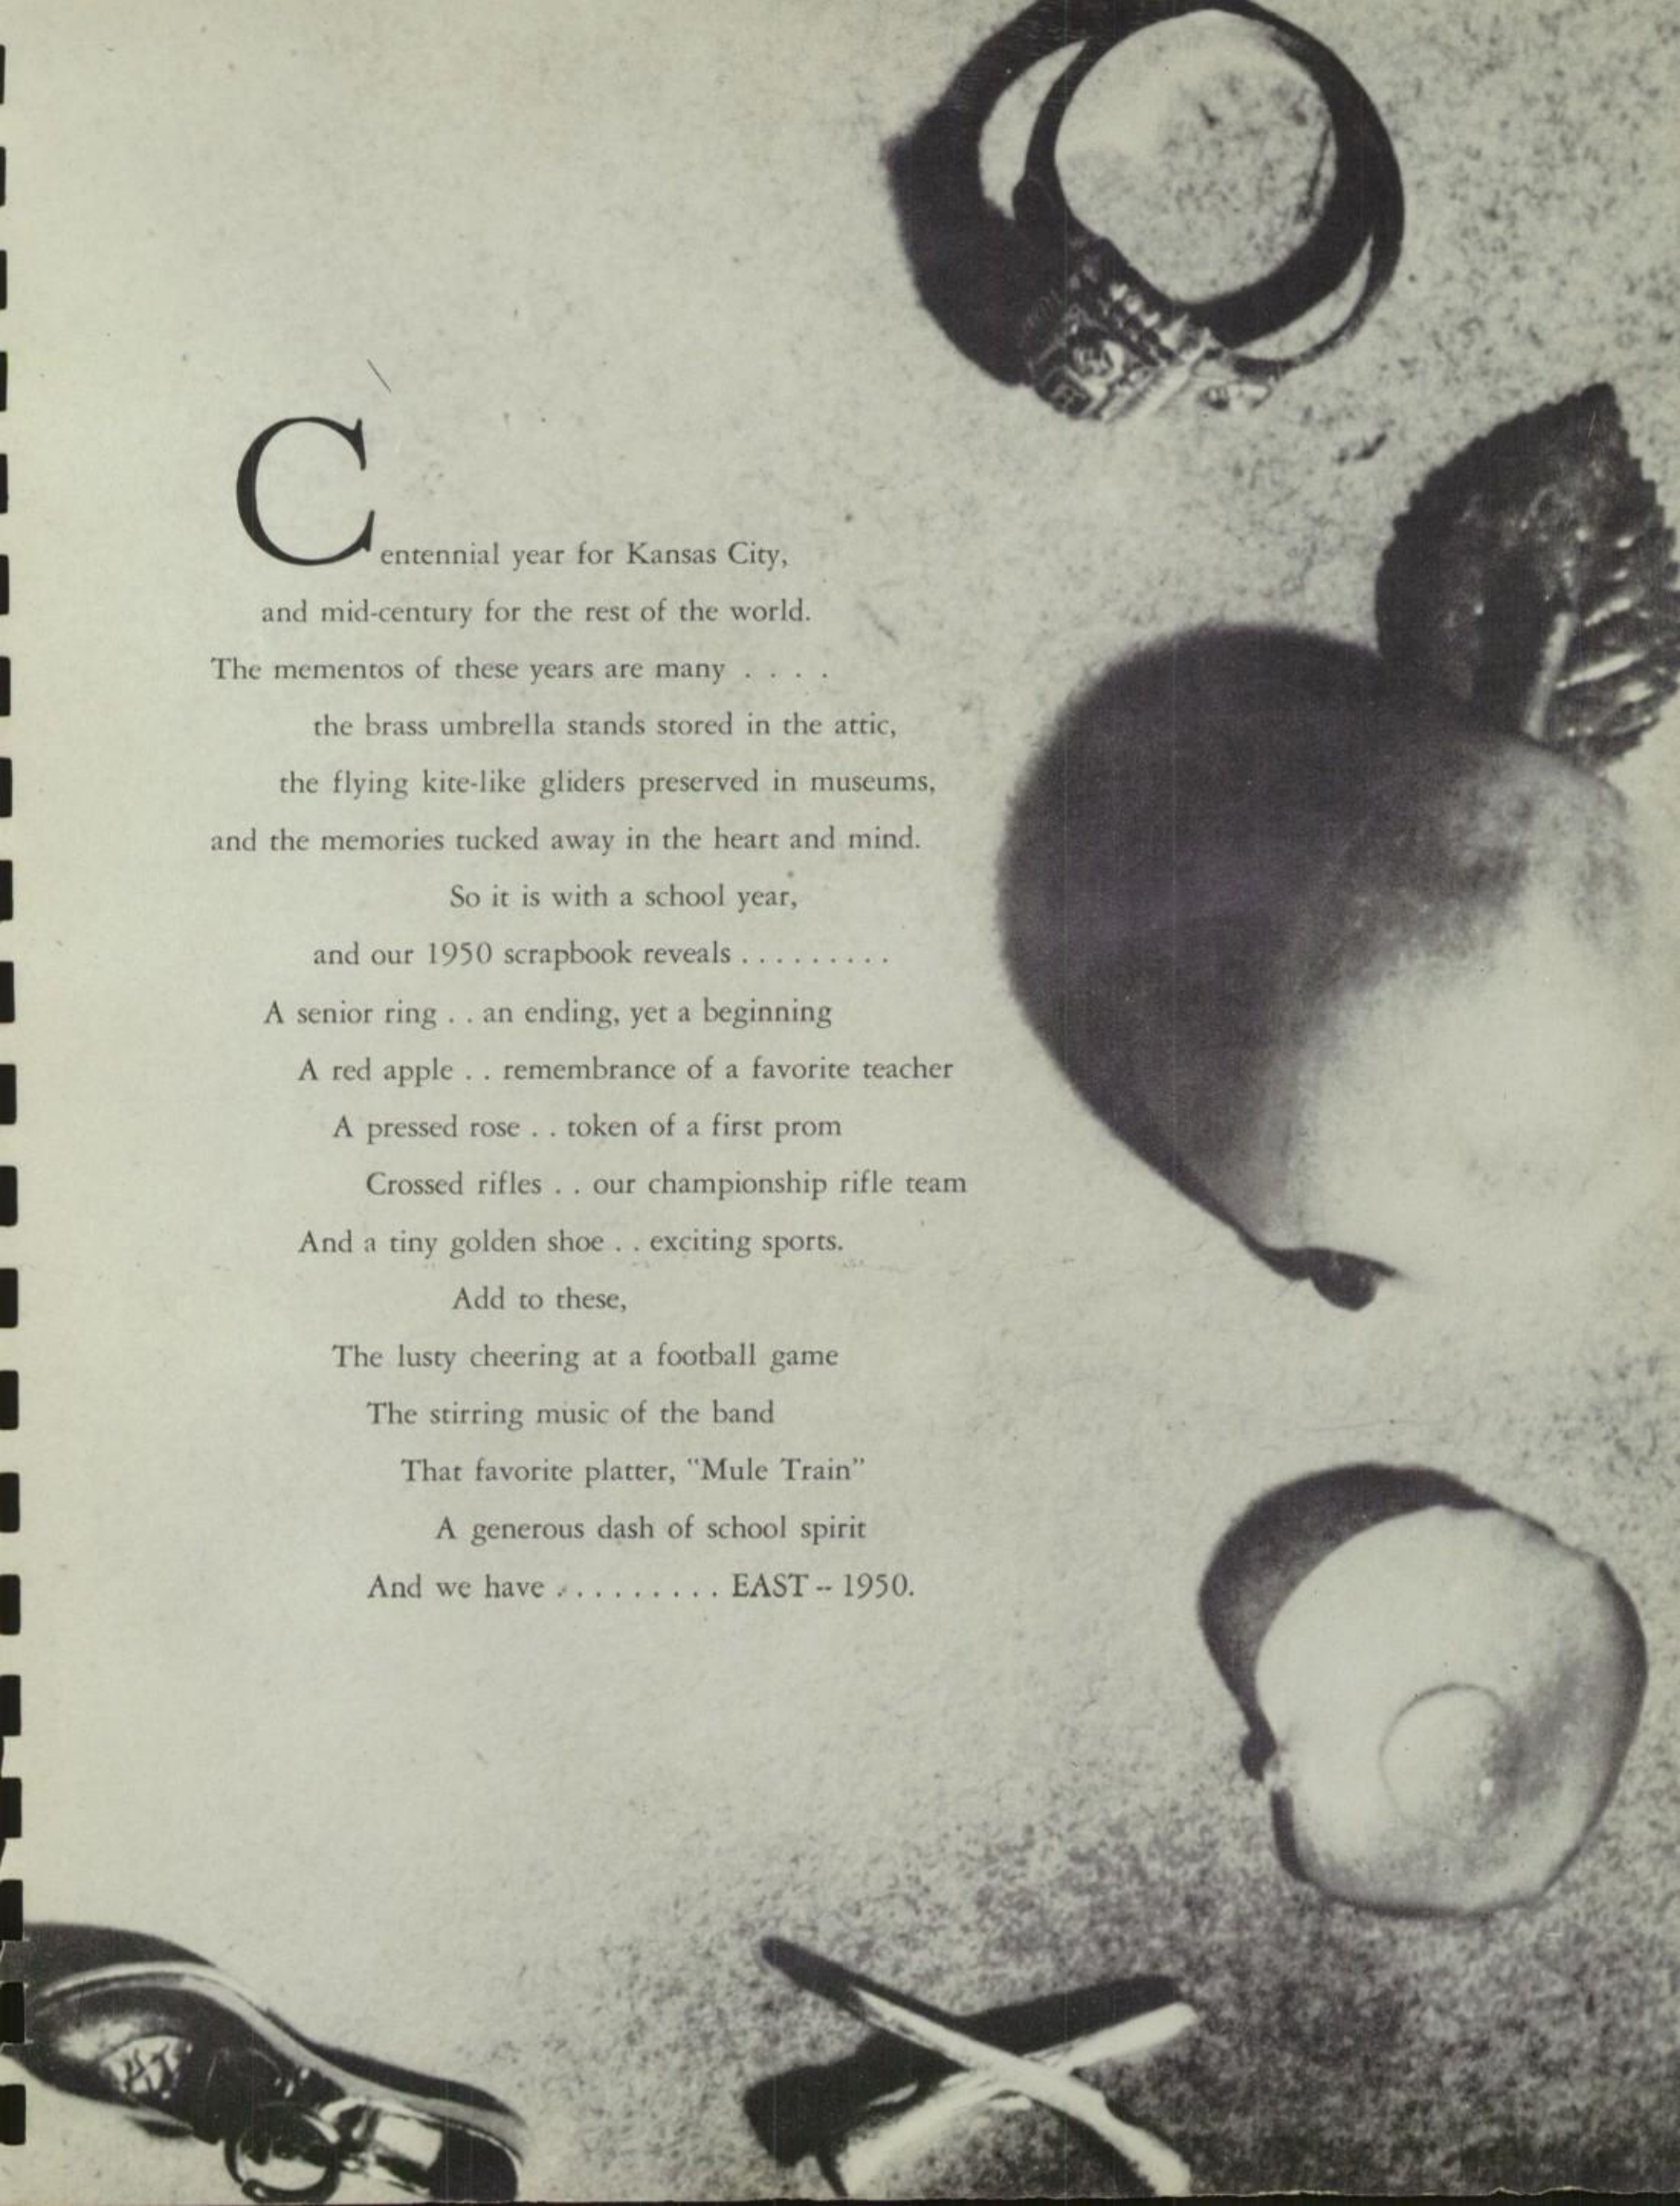
Centennial year for Kansas City, and mid-century for the rest of the world.
The mementos of these years are many . . . .
the brass umbrella stands stored in the attic,
the flying kite-like gliders preserved in museums,
and the memories tucked away in the heart and mind.
So it is with a school year,
and our 1950 scrapbook reveals . . . . . .
A senior ring . . an ending, yet a beginning
A red apple . . remembrance of a favorite teacher
A pressed rose . . token of a first prom
Crossed rifles . . our championship rifle team
And a tiny golden shoe . . exciting sports.
Add to these,
The lusty cheering at a football game
The stirring music of the band
That favorite platter, "Mule Train"
A generous dash of school spirit
And we have . . . . . EAST -- 1950.



Administration

C. O. Williams

Principal

Our principal, Mr. C. O. Williams, is well known throughout the city as a speaker, scout leader, church worker, and enthusiastic supporter of youth activities. His wise judgment has been felt ever since his arrival at East in 1945 to take over the supervision of a busy school. He is always available when there are problems to be solved, and he has helped many students to find their places in the world of today.

J. N. Broadlick

Vice-principal

Director of extra-curricular activities and making the mechanics of the school run smoothly makes our vice-principal, Mr. Broadlick, a very busy but popular man. Included in his many activities are the sponsorship of the Junior and Senior Classes as well as advisor for the various clubs.

ANNA STEWART, Counselor

Miss Anna Stewart, now in her fourth year at East, helps the pupils with their many problems whether it be to lend lunch money or to advise Seniors in preparing for college. Her careful planning and wise decisions make her one of the most efficient counselors in the city.

Language and Fine Arts

Eight faculty members from the English department, Miss Marie Burris, Miss Virginia Welch, Miss Carolyn Dasbach, Miss Virginia McClure, Miss Viona Ewalt, Miss Celia Waring, Mrs. Neva Hutton and Mr. F. N. Cummins work together to present the finest in literature and films for those taking English. Miss Ewalt, Miss Rose Martin, and Miss Dasbach instruct pupils in speech interpretation. Miss Eva Van Natta has charge of the public speaking and advanced speech work. Publications are under the direction of Miss Welch.

Mr. Cummins and Miss McClure teach the foreign language. Miss McClure has two classes in Latin while Mr. Cummins has three hours of Spanish.

Art is under the direction of Miss Agnes Crawford.

The music staff consists of four members, Mr. Laurence Nivens, Mr. Donovan Mabbott, Mr. Marion Sell, and Miss Roberta Hendee. Both Mr. Mabbott and Mr. Nivens teach vocal music while Mr. Sell has charge of the band and orchestra. Miss Hendee serves as accompanist.

Frances Maddi is the efficient office registrar.

Miss Van Natta takes time out from her speech work to tend her many flowers.

Social and Physical Sciences

The social science department is instrumental in training citizens for the future. No less than ten instructors hold these important positions. History is taught by Mr. John P. Dix, Mr. Clayton Dickson, Mr. E. C. Fields, Miss May Farr Hiatt, and Miss Jessie Marie Willitt. Mrs. Helen Lapsley, Miss Nell Wells, Miss Ota Crosthwait, Miss Cosby Harrison, and Mr. A. E. Swearingen have charge of the Common Learnings classes.

The physical sciences are taught by five members of the faculty. Miss Nora Boone and Miss Anna McGloin instruct classes in human science and biology. Miss Boone also teaches the only psychology class. Mr. Wallace Grube holds classes in biology and human science. Mr. W. S. Esther and Mr. James C. Michaels have charge of the general sciences and chemistry classes. Mr. Esther also has a radio class.

Miss Elenore Canny directs the girls' health classes and has the main study hall.

1950 finds Mr. Grube behind the camera for the twenty-fourth year.

Practical Arts

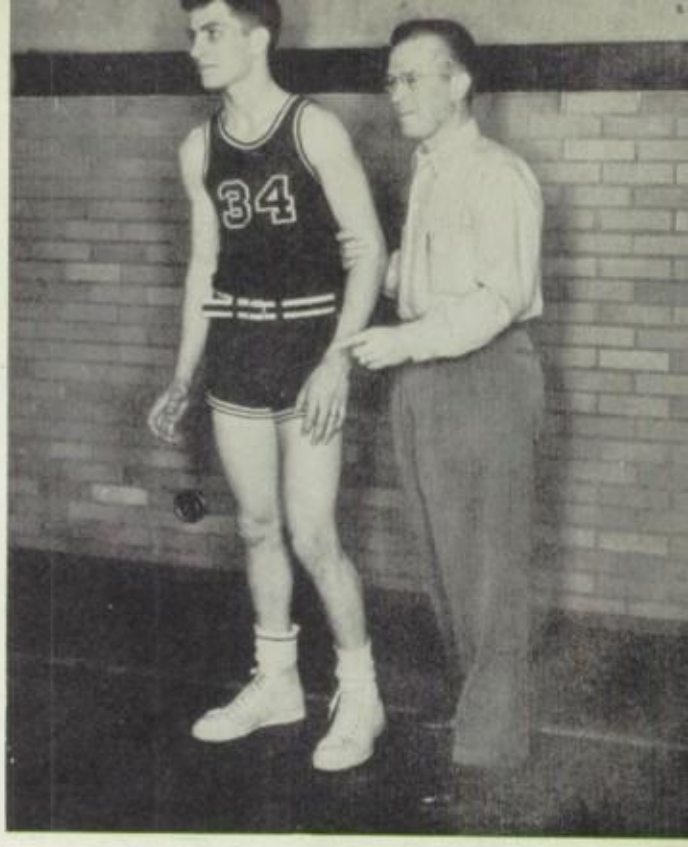
Sixteen of our faculty members form this department. Very important in a person's training is that provided by the mathematical instructors. Mr. Paul Day, Mr. Richard Benson, and Mr. Carl West together with Miss C. Ruth Miller teach the fundamentals of math. Mr. Day instructs pupils in A.D.E. and has the only physiography class. Miss Miller also conducts three civics classes, and Mr. Benson teaches bookkeeping.

Boys work with actual tools in the wood, metal shops under the direction of Mr. C. B. McClure and Mr. L. A. Priefert respectively. Future draftsmen receive instruction under Mr. Tiefel's watchful eye.

Miss Mabel Cobb, Miss Minnie Baker, and Miss Katherine Miller compose the commercial department. Miss Baker serves as school treasurer.

Sgt. Jack Miller directs R.O.T.C. work. Mr. Gene Sebastian and Mr. Lester Fields promote better health through their efforts in the physical education department.

Miss Genevieve Nowlin and Miss Beneta Reed help the girls to become good housekeepers and better cooks. Mr. Bernard C. Greene has charge of the R.T.I. and Coperative Occupational Education.



Gene Sebastian advises Don Howey on technique in making another goal.

Faculty-Staff

Miss Vee Flinn, Miss Emma Dim Gilliland, and Miss Alice Walton are regular members of the East staff and this year display new photographs. Miss Gilliland is a member of the social science department. Miss Flinn has charge of the advanced mathematics. Miss Walton is the school nurse.

Mrs. Gertrude Carr Davis assists Mrs. Frances Maddi in the activities of the office.

New Members

Several teachers are in their first year at East. Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Patterson are in the Girls' Physical Education department. Mrs. Nusser teaches clothing. Major Reed assists Sgt. Miller in the R.O.T.C. work, while Mr. Robert Barr has three metal classes.

Miss Marjorie Davis teaches arithmetic, while Miss Johnson has common learnings classes. Miss Young returns from Central to teach English this year.

Behold the wonders of Miss Flinn's little black suitcase.

Dancing, ping-pong, forming new friendships, and just plain old-fashioned fun are all part of the many fun-filled mixers held in the boys' gym and sponsored by the Student Council.

The proceeds of the mixers go for some worthwhile school activity which needs financial support. With each home room represented in the Student Council, anticipation of approaching mixers is great.

All the best bands of the country, Vaughn Monroe, Tommy Dorsey, Stan Kenton, and many others were heard (on record) at the dances as the couples tried out all the latest steps.

Talent from the many home rooms appeared on the popular intermission programs. Piano solos, tap dancing, and vocal numbers offered variety.

All over the United States November 6-12 was designated as American Education Week. The general theme for this week was "Making Democracy Work." A more appropriate theme would have been hard to find.

Leading citizens of our community planned the very successful "open house" which was held at East High on November 8. The many rooms of the building were open to parents and friends as students displayed their work. Various home rooms planned special displays, and such places as the science, wood-working, art, social science, and typing rooms proved to be centers of attention.

Famous personalities, skits, songs, and dancing were all features of the Student Council Talent Assembly held November 23. Talent was gathered from the various home rooms in an eleven act presentation that was enjoyed by pupils and faculty alike.

Durward Redd, M.C., is seen introducing Vice-President and Mrs. Harkley (Tom Peck and Kay Donahoe) while autograph hounds (Mary Kilventon, Virginia Grate, and Teresa Krebbs) swoon at Bok Walker (Bob Pryor). It is interesting to note that the three top officers of the council took active parts in the show.

Labeled as one of the most enjoyable assemblies in the school's history, the talent show will go down in the school's book of memories.

The EAST ECHO, delivered on alternate Thursdays throughout the school year, kept the students informed of the important happenings in and around school. On these special Thursdays, ECHO reporters could be seen gathering in 106 at home room time to deliver the papers to each of the home rooms.

The Echo owes much of its success to the home rooms where the subscribers were solicited. News of the various home rooms appeared in current issues of the paper. Not all was hard work; fun was a part of the job.

Floating through the air with the grace of ballet dancers are Bob Pryor and a Manual player. Pryor attempts a shot as the Manual player tries to block it, while Patterson waits for the rebound.

Only through the cooperation of the home rooms can basketball and football games be provided. The season tickets sold in the various home rooms pay rent for the stadium and auditorium where the games are held. With East having the promise of one of the best squads in its history, the basketball team brought thrills galore to the enthusiastic spectators.

Home rooms were called upon to practice cheers and promote school spirit. Every great team has a great school behind it.

The Student Council

The governing body of the school, the Student Council, under the direction of Anne Stewart, John P. Dix, and Clayton Dickson, enlivened the school year with its varied activities. The Talent Assembly proved a highlight in November, while its Scholarship Assembly, a week before, created a greater interest in obtaining high scholastic standing. The special project for the year was a drive to acquire funds for new choir robes. The Wistful Willie cartoon appearing in the ECHO was paid for with council funds, as were the additional letters for the cafeteria menu board.

A pink rose corsage, the petals still damp, tells of the romance of the Intersociety Ball . . . sheer magic transformed the boys' gymnasium into a winter wonderland. Fun-packed meetings mingled with serious instruction made the departmental clubs popular on Tuesday afternoons. And then, a piece of straw, in the turned-up cuff of blue jeans, and teen-agers laughing and singing, forgetting the cold air about them on a Hi-Y hayride. Afterward, the red glow from the fireplace reflected on shining faces, and the pungent odor of hot dogs and mustard.

This, too, was our year!

Lit Clubs

MOST important in the social and cultural life of the school are the "lit" clubs organized "to create a greater interest in the literary works, to further study of parliamentary works, and to foster a finer spirit of friendship among their members".

The only boy-girl club at East is Kalailu, organized in October, 1926, when East was in its first year. The club, whose name means "friendship", chose as its colors red and white and proudly carried off top honors in the 1947 and 1948 contests. Miss C. Ruth Miller directed the many activities of the club.

In the month of November, 1926, the cherished saying of "Once a Leundian, always a Leundian", came into being as the all girls' club, the Leundians, was organized. Mr. Carl West carried the club to second place is last year's contest. Their colors are soft grey and pink and they have as a brother club, the Hamilitons.

The "Hams", in 1928, bound together into an all boy society to become a popular and outstanding club. Last year they took third place in the annual lit contest. Miss Jessie Marie Willitt assists the boys in their varied activities.

Meeting on the second floor, one may find the pink and powder blue of Eulexia, the other all girl club organized in December of 1929. Mr. A. E. Swearingen serves as the girls' advisor.

The last club was an all boy organization, the Websters, which came into being in 1937. Hitting the top by placing in every event of the 1949 lit contest, the club proudly has Miss Carolyn Dasbach as sponsor.

As the 1949 Eastonian went to press before the results of last year's contest were known, the winners are printed on this page. Representatives from the five clubs competed in oration on Friday, morning, April 8, in an assembly program. Winning the gold medal, Leroy Lindahl took first place representing Webster. For second place, the silver medal was presented to Irene Sevier of Leundis. Third place gave bronze medal to Betty Fretik of Kalailu.

The first event of the evening was the extemporaneous speaking contest; Gail Dull, representing Hamilton, won the medal for first place. Taking second place was Elaine Masters of Leundis. Bert Larkin of Webster took third.

In declamation, the winners were: Tommy Butcher of Webster, first; Erwin Carson of Hamilton, second, and Gloria Beal of Kalailu, third.

Myrle Young of Leundis wrote the winning story, Sally Smith placed Second for Eulexia, and Hugh Wilson won third for Webster.

Bill Bauman received the gold medal for Hamiltons with his essay. Richard Yates of Webster wrote the second place essay and Mary Etta Rue placed third for Kalailu.

The winning poem was written by Barbara Fenton of Leundis. Kenny Kinman, representing Webster won second, and Mary Helen Weldon of Eulexia placed third.

Combining fun and work, the Y-Teens crammed many activities into the brief span of the school year.

At Christmas time Santa Claus visited the meeting and measured each girl's waist which cost a penny an inch, but the girls didn't mind, for the proceeds went for the World Fellowship work.

In the spotlight of all their activities was the formal ball held in February in all the swank and sophistication necessary to make it a success.

The girls have their serious moments, too. The candle light recognition service in the fall for new members and the spring Easter program are always enjoyable for both old and new members.

Each girl, when becoming a member, accepts the purpose and standards of the organization.

OPPOSITE: The finished product.

Perhaps not all are Rembrandts, Michelangelos, or Millets, but the members of the Art Club have done some prize-winning work.

The Art Club was the first departmental club to organized at East and proudly keeps its reputation by assisting the school in the production of plays and assemblies, and this year, presented the school an original wall hanging for the front hall.

During the year, trips to the Nelson Art Gallery, Kansas City Museum, and the Scholastic Art Exhibit at Emery Bird Thayer help the members to further their art education and provide interesting programs filled with fun for the club.

Miss May Farr Hiatt and Miss Agnes Crawford serve as club sponsors.

First and Second semester officers were: Presidents-Shirley Stoner, Anita Miles; Vice-presidents-Peggy Hovis, Shirley Nystrom; Secretaries-Anita Miles, Durward Redd; Treasurers-Terry Benton, Chris Van Deusen; Reporters-Mary Werning, Douglas Lowe. The Engineers Club

They didn't build the Empire State Building or the Golden Gate Bridge, but the Engineers do their part in the building of a better school. The club was organized to develop a greater interest in engineering and mechanics among East students.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Ralph Tiefel and Mr. C. B. McClure, the club has made mechanics a vital part of school life.

The Spanish Club

Spanish dances are fun

They study Spanish customs.

The Spanish Club-or as they say in Spanish, EL CIRCULO ESPANOL, is one of the most active organizations at East. During the past year, the club members presented plays in Spanish in order to learn more about our Southern neighbors. Their parties are gay with the traditional "pinata" and initiation in a important event, with the new members wearing the traditional burro head. (Mr. Cummins explains that burro means stupid.) Ask any member and he'll tell you that he is proud to be a part of the Spanish Club.

Leader of the Spanish Club for the first semester was Nancy Hill. Helping her was Donna Wasson who had charge of some very interesting programs, serving in the capacity of veep. Secretary was Wilma Brandt; Benny Roseberry balanced the books; Curt Hill maintained order. Ed Dodd and Shirely Fowler were mascots.

The Science Club

Perhaps splitting atoms and making atom bombs is a little advanced for them, but wouldn't Einstein be happy if he could see our Science Club?

This club was formed to promote a greater interest in the field of science. During the year, the members studied things pertaining to this field, making their programs not only educational but entertaining.

The club studied not only scientific inventions but animal life as well. Members will long remember the stuffed animals that their sponsor, Miss Anna McGloin, has collected from her many travels. A social event each year adds to the popularity of this club. Mr. Day also serves as sponsor.

The human body can prove a mystery.

First semester officers inspect a lantern-fish.

The first semester officers worked with Miss McGloin to further interest in our mystifying world and explore the wonders of science. Jackie Warner served as president of the group. Bill Bauman, Lela Brower, and Annette Kurtz held the offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. Lloyd Hales reported the club's activities to the school paper while Corky Ames and John Harrison were the mascots of the group. Harlen Clinkenbeard served as the sergeant-at-arms.

The Latin Club

A spelling bee in Latin finds Miss McClure in charge of the fun.

A Roman banquet, spelling bees, and Latin plays, are all a part of the interesting programs of the Latin Club. Members of the Latin classes are all eligible for membership, and there is a close relationship between the classes and the club.

In the past, the club has presented plays for other classes in the school in order to stimulate interest in Latin, and ancient Rome. The highlight of the year, however, is the Roman banquet. Distinguished guests are invited, and members dress in appropriate costumes. Latin Club is fun and instructive!

Uel Snyder reads an interesting paper to the group as Melvin Thursby presides.

Officers for the first semester were: President-Melvin Thursby; Uel Snyder-Vice-president; Gary Gooding, secretary; Roland Toevs-Treasurer and Doris Showalter-sergeant-at-arms. Miss Virginia McClure is the club sponsor.

As a symbol of business guidance, the Commercial Club has as its purpose the desire to stimulate interest in business and industrial affairs, and to promote friendly cooperation among the students of the department.

Under the direction of Miss Mabel Cobb, members have opportunities to acquaint themselves with all types of office work. Speaker, tours, and demonstrations make the Commercial Club one of the most interesting departmental clubs in school.

A Cappella.... Fifty-five Harmonious Voices

The A Cappella Choir is an active organization made up of advanced students in vocal music. Under the direction of Mr. Laurence Nivens, the choir presented its annual Christmas and Easter assemblies, sang at Pecks Dry Goods Company during the Christmas season, joined with other choirs in the city for a performance during the meeting of the National Association of Secondary Principals and took part in many other programs. One of the big projects for the entire school was the drive for new choir robes. Miss Roberta Hendee was the accompanist for the first semester and Miss Mildred Dixon took her place for the second semester.

This year's staff has endeavored to give you a new and different book! It has meant long hours of work for all, but if it pleases the readers, it has been well worth it. The latest styles and trends have been carefully studied and incorporated into this, our 1950 Eastonian.

Durward Redd (1) has been the hard-working editor and Jack Ponak (2) the assistant editor. Their combined efforts have made possible this year's book. Mary Werning (3) is responsible for the dedication and division page write-ups. Anita Miles (4) served as art editor and arranged the division pages. The business end of the book was handled by Donald Kelsey (6) and Sally Scholle (7) under the guidance of Miss Minnie Baker, school treasurer. Warren Lemberger (8) was student photographer.

Sharon Adair assisted in the art department. Roland Toevs did the school drawings for the senior section. Carol Austin is responsible for the departmental clubs' copy. Donna Bradshaw, Cora Ann Ames and Lela Brower served as typists.

Douglas Lowe, Eugene Maher, Fred Brown, John Murphy, Chris Van Deusen, Delon Hales, Ted Dombroski, and Gail Dull also assisted in the preparation of the book.

Miss Virginia Welch, newswriting instructor, was the adviser for all staff work.

"Take many delightful books
And dozens of curious readers
Mix well with trained librarians
Serve with pleasure as sauce."

East students and patrons recommend this recipe to all. Spice was added to the recipe this year by the yearly book week observance. All students were asked this question: "If you were cast up on a desert island, alone, what book would you choose to have with you?" The BIBLE was chosen by the majority. TREASURE ISLAND and ROBINSON CRUSOE placed second and third.

Miss Sarah Bower acts in the capacity of branch librarian, and has the able assistance of Mrs. Page Calvert and Mrs. Margaret Peterson. The juvenile room is well staffed with Miss Lorraine Crouse, juvenile librarian, and Miss Lucille McAvoy, assistant. Bill Bauman, Lloyd Hales, Douglas Lowe, and Paul Hollansworth served as pages this year.

Nurse Proctors

Taking an ill pupil's temperature is just one of the many duties assigned the nurse proctors.

Each year boys and girls are measured and weighed for school records.

Nurse proctors this year were: Hour 1- Shirley Patterson; Hour 2- Mary Etta Rue, Irene Sevier; Hour 3- Virginia Silvey, Joyce Stafflebach; Hour 4- Alice Smith; Hour 5- Nancy Colby; Hour 6- Beverly McKern; Hour 7- Beatrice Auldridge, Jackie Warner.

Proctors must keep on file a record of all visits made to the health center.

Crossed rifles symbolize East's championship team. Trophies are added to trophies in the cases in the front hall, and ribbons and medals decorate the white sweaters of the members of the sharpshooting squad. Hard work, discipline, and training paid dividends to the members of the R.O.T.C. rifle squad.

Learning the intricacies of firearms, training for military life, marching, map study, and the constant polishing of brass buttons and the shining of shoes, are all a part of the R.O.T.C. There is a sense of accomplishment when the cadets earn two stripes and later receive the right to display the bars of a lieutenant. Federal inspection brings more honors and a feeling that all that has gone into the year has been worthwhile.

Then comes the crowning event of the season . . . the R.O.T.C. Ball and the coronation of the lovely queen!

R.O.T.C. Leaders

Master Sergeant Jack C. Miller is in his fourth year as an R. O. T. C. instructor at East. This is his tenth year in the army. Sergeant Miller saw action in the Pacific Theater as an officer on Okinawa and in Korea. During the past year, he coached the East Rifle Team to the championship.

Major Myron W. Reed is the senior R. O. T. C. instructor at East. He served in the Pacific Theater for 40 months, returning in 1946. He has been active in R. O. T. C. work in Kansas City for two years. Major Reed is also the assistant P. M. S. & J. of the Kansas City Regiment.

Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Donald Forsythe is the first cadet to attain the rank of Lieutenant Colonel at East for four years. In the three years he has spent in R. O. T. C., he has won many awards. They include two neatness and bearing ribbons, and two marksmanship ribbons. Also, he is a member of the championship rifle team.

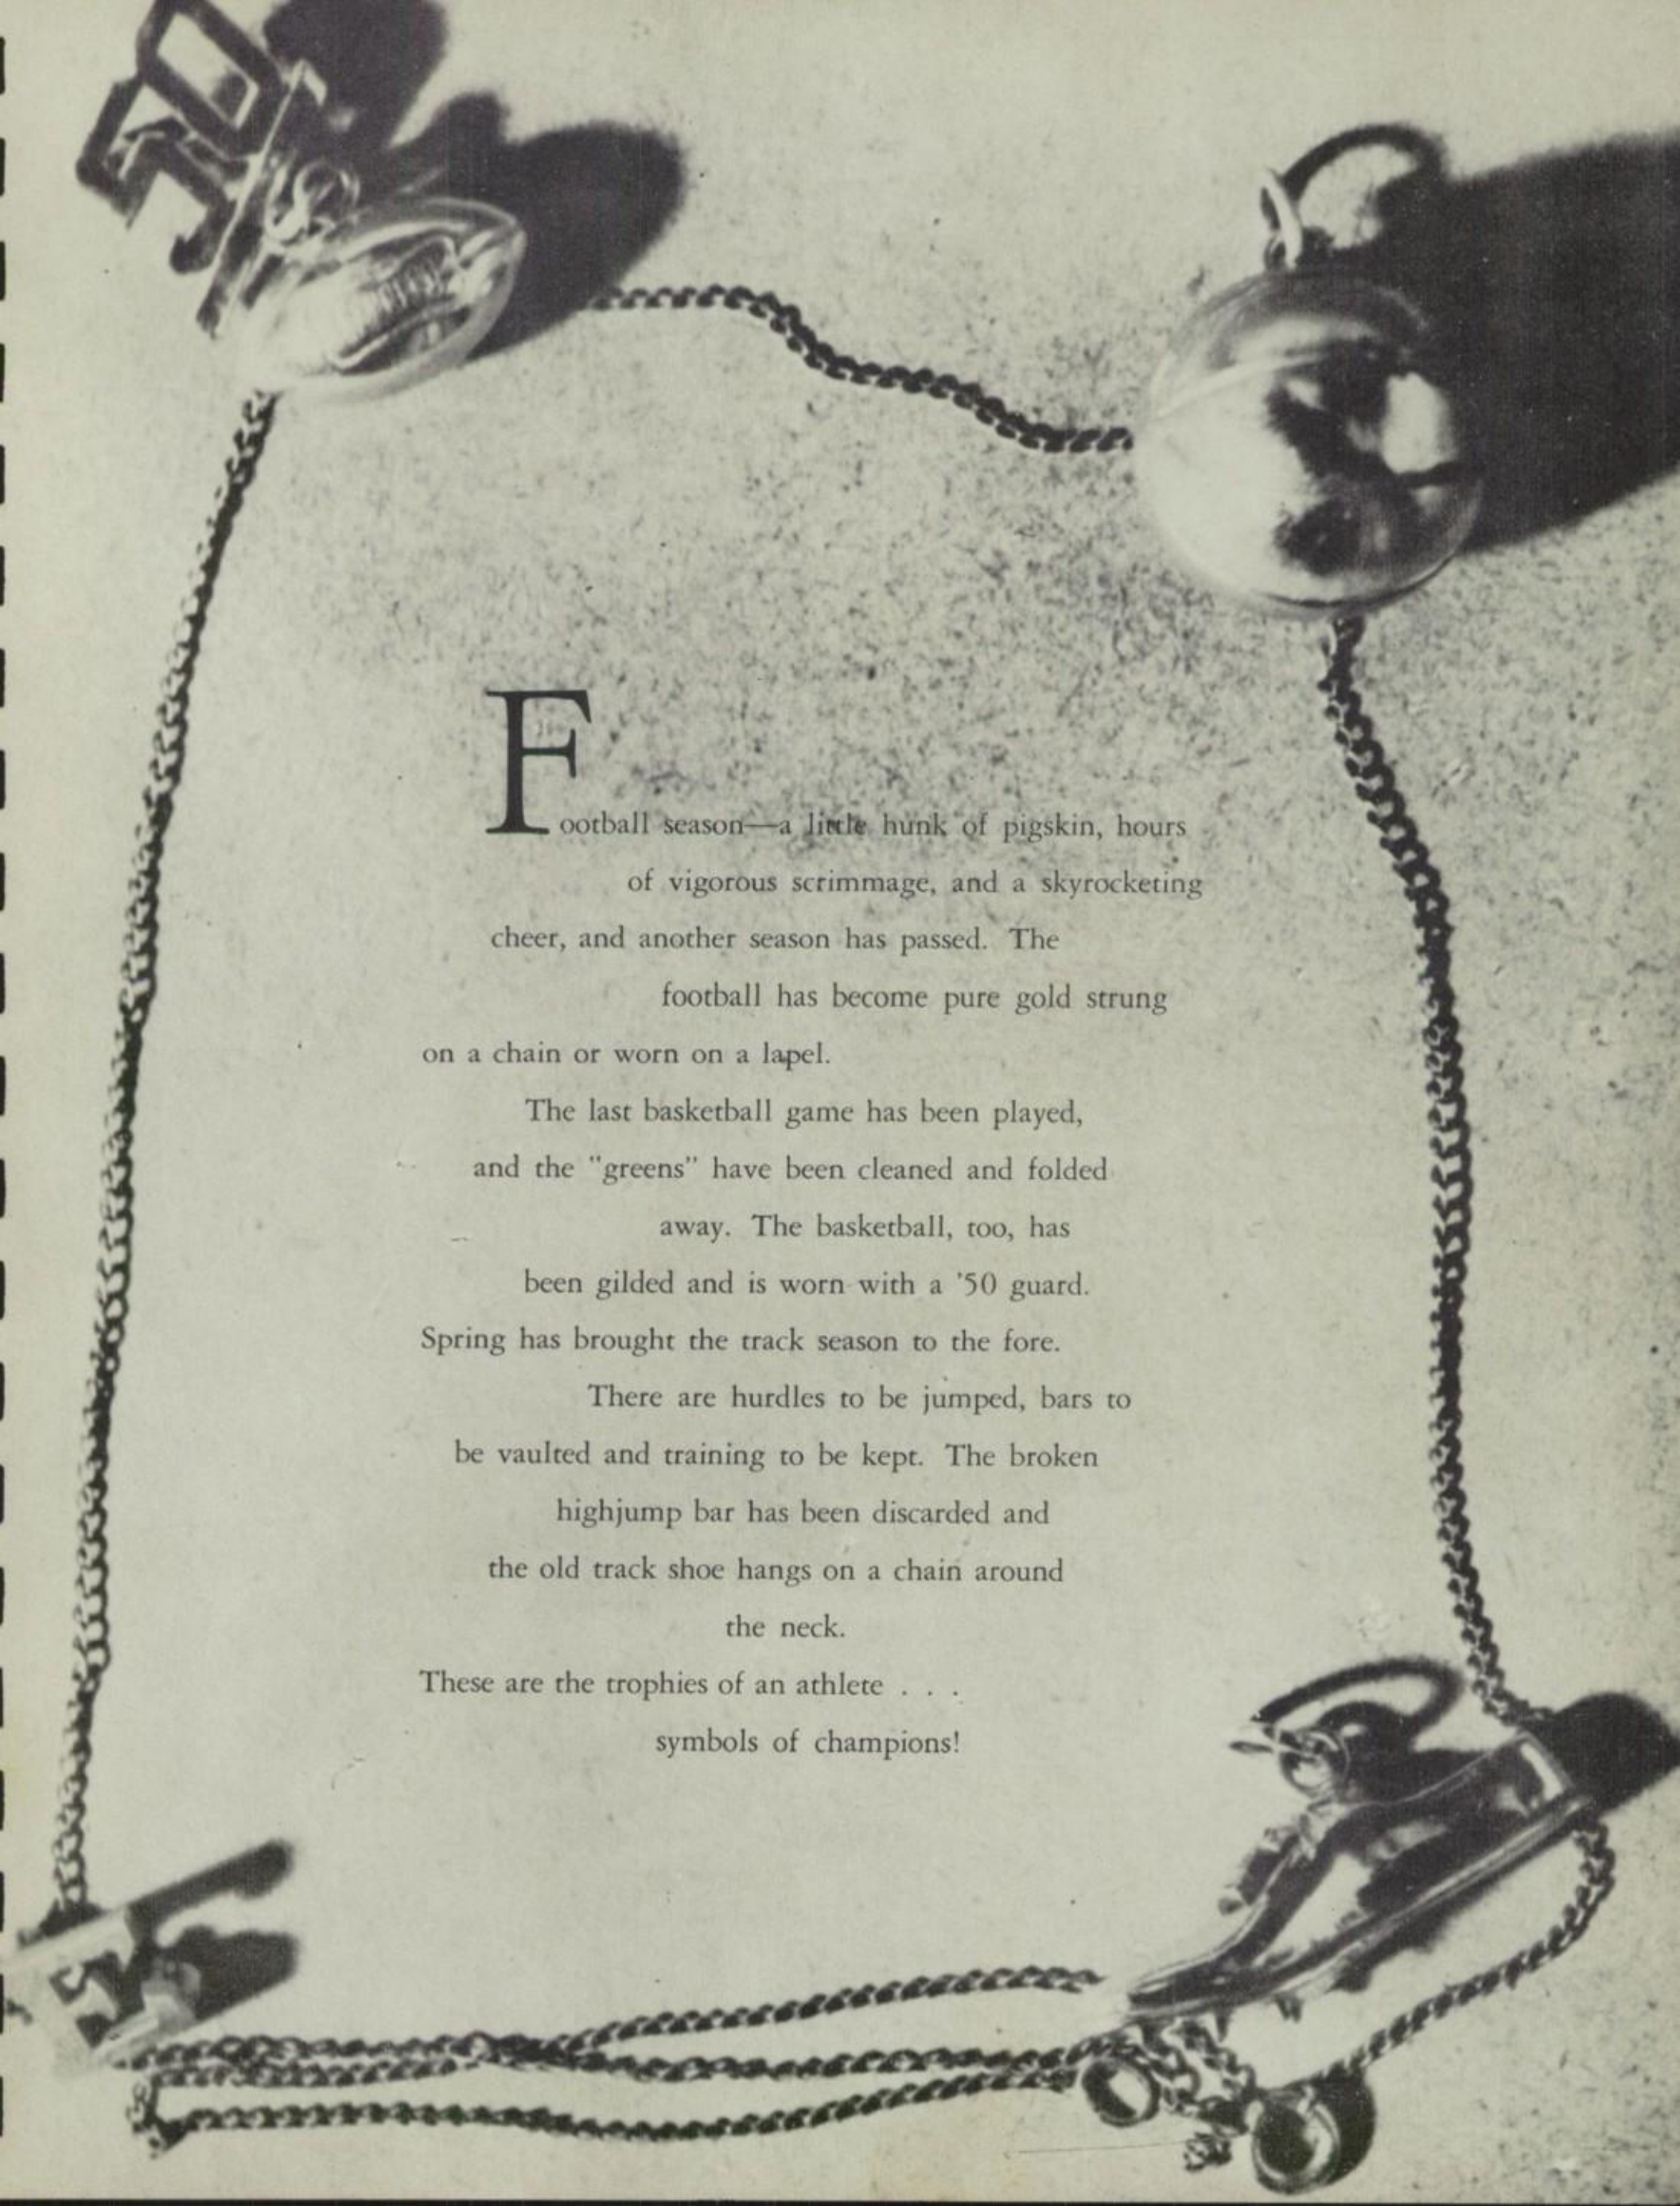
From the Editor's File



Football season—a little hunk of pigskin, hours of vigorous scrimmage, and a skyrocketing cheer, and another season has passed. The football has become pure gold strung on a chain or worn on a lapel.

The last basketball game has been played, and the "greens" have been cleaned and folded away. The basketball, too, has been gilded and is worn with a '50 guard.

Spring has brought the track season to the fore. There are hurdles to be jumped, bars to be vaulted and training to be kept. The broken highjump bar has been discarded and the old track shoe hangs on a chain around the neck.

These are the trophies of an athlete . . . symbols of champions!

East 1949 Interscholastic Football Season

After fighting, driving, and practicing, the 1949 Gridiron team fought what might be called a losing battle. They showed excellent sportsmanship but lacked that precision and timing and co-operation which is necessary for a championship team. Since the team was composed almost entirely of underclassmen, they showed fine playing to win two victories while dropping five.

East 0—Westport 33

The East Bears got off to a bad start by losing to the fast moving Westport Tigers in their league opener. The Bears, although fighting hard to the finish, seemed unable to stop the powerful tigers who rolled across the stripes to a final 33-0 victory.

East 0—Southwest 24

Although fighting all the way, the East Bears were unable to make a comeback with the Southwest Indians. The Bears seemed like midgets beside the giant Indian warriors and were scalped to a final loss of 0-24.

East 0—Northeast 43

Trying everything in the books, the East Bears were unable to stop the rushing of the powerful Northeast Vikings. After playing well the first half, the Bears were brought ashore to a 43-0 loss.

East 14—Paseo 13

After getting off to a bad start, the East Bears came back to beat the favored Paseo Pirates in a close battle. The team showed the best playing of the season to beat the Pirates 14-13.

They were sparked by the brilliant running of halfback, Jimmie Jacks.

East 0—Central 13

After defeating the Paseo Pirates, the East Bears found themselves once again in the claws of the Central Eagles. They fought hard to the final gun but were unable to stop the Eagles and lost 13-0.

East 22—Manual 6

Running, dodging, kicking and passing brought the sixth game into the hands of the East Bears. The Bears fairly ran over the underdog Manual Cardinals. After losing the first touchdown, the Bears went forward to a final victory of 22-6.

East 12—Southeast 38

In the closing game of the season, the East Bears seemed unable to stop the galloping horses of the Southeast Knights. After holding their own the first half, the Bears' defense dropped apart to lose in the second half, 12-38.

A Season of Disappointments, but Thrill Packed

The East Bears, although rated high at the beginning of the season by coaches and sports writers, never reached their stride. There were many outstanding players on the team, but they never got together as a fighting unit. But even with five losses and two wins, four players were given places on the All-City Honorable Mention Squad. Bob Cross, the third best pass receiver in the city, was one. Ted Bottorff was chosen for his outstanding ability as a tackle. Jimmie Jacks, hard-running halfback, was the third, and Bob Pryor, a leading passer, was the fourth.

The League's Second Place Team, The Cubs

East's second team football squad won five and lost two games during the season. After many stiff fights, the mighty cubs were defeated by Southwest and Southeast.

At the end of the season, the East team was in second place, due to the outstanding performances of the players and the coaching of Les Fields.

The boys won the Westport game, 6-0; the Northeast game, 12-2; the Paseo game, 7-6; the Central game, 7-0, and the Manual game, 27-0.

Indoor and Outdoor Champions

Track season is always too late in the season for it to be covered by the Sports Editor of the Eastonian. An account of last year's City Meet is given on the opposite page, and as the Eastonian goes to press, it is hoped that the boys who pound the cinders for East will again win the Indoor and the City Meet.

The Bruin track specialists opened the '49 track season, at the Big 7 indoor meet, with a flourish, taking victories in the 60-yard dash and 880 yard runs, with Freddie Slocum turning in a time of 6.6 seconds in the 60-yard dash.

A determined East track team made a good showing by placing third in the annual indoor state track meet at Columbia, Missouri on April 2. This was the first time that the East team had attended the Indoor State Meet. The undergraduates participating in the meet were: Bob Pryor, Fred Slocum, Jimmy Jacks, and Willie Sharp.

The rugged Bears of East kept their track slate clean by defeating the Eagles of Central and the Red Birds of Manual in the two opening track meets of the season. East won its final dual meet of the season by defeating the Southeast Knights on the East track. Slocum turned in a broad jump of 19 feet, 5 inches to become highly favored in the city meet.

The East Bears won their first City Track Title on Southwest's field by breaking Southwest's five year reign as city champions. Jimmy Jacks turned in the surprise performance of the afternoon as he edged out state champion Dan Burt of Southwest at the tape, with a time of 52:6.

Times and distances which in most cases were better than those which won the city meet just one week before, couldn't quite turn the trick at the State Meet held at Columbia, as East, one of the pre-meet favorites, placed seventh. East placed second in the mile relay team made up of Glen Vinson, Fred Slocum, Jim Jacks, and Jack Cherry turned in its best time of the season. Jim Jacks placed fourth in a quarter mile field which was the fastest in years.

Establishing four records and winning third place honors at the St. Joseph Relays, the Bears closed their track season. The meet was held on St. Joseph Central's track, May 20. East placed in the 880-yard relay, 440-relay, and 2-mile relay. The boys established new records in all three relays. The mile relay team also came through in fine form placing second. East finished third in the meet, 7/10 of a point behind second place Paseo, the meet was won by Christian Brothers of St. Joseph.

The "Big Four" of the Athletic Department

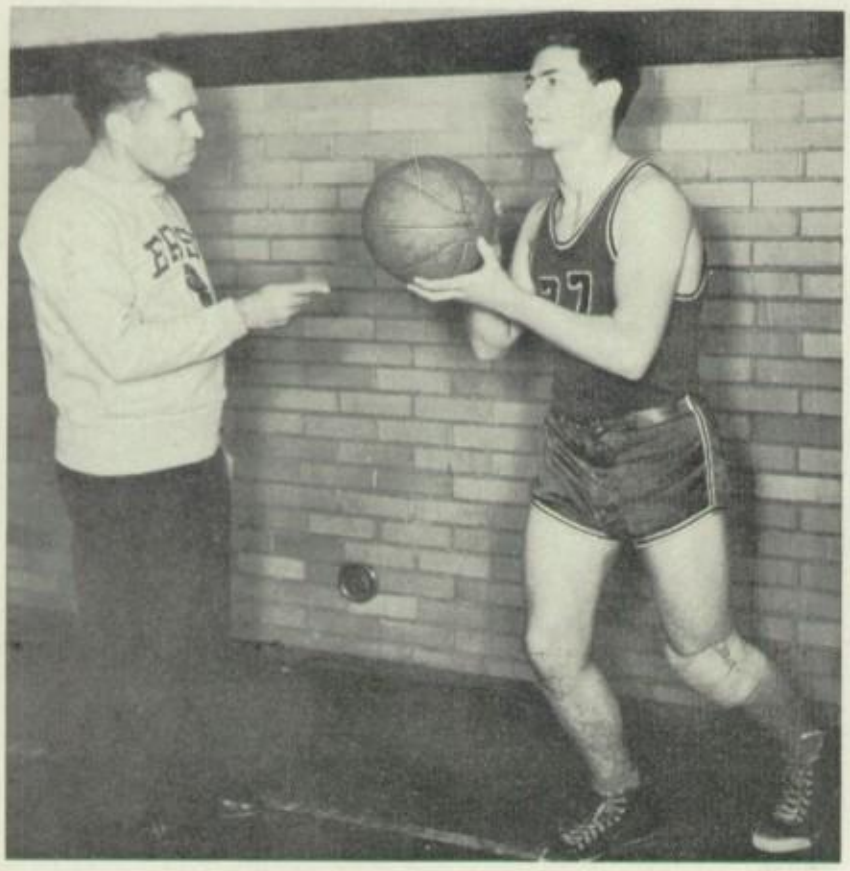
Coach Gene Sebastian tells Don Howey what to do on the next play.

Gene Sebastian, basketball coach at East, is a former graduate and basketball star. Since his arrival, he has had two second place trophies in the Sub-Regional. His 1948 and 1949 teams just missed the Interscholastic championship.

Since 1938, Coach Roy Brown, football and track coach at East, has had one championship and second place for four years in football. In track, the Big Seven, and a championship in Interscholastic Track Meet. Coach Brown enjoys a reputation for sportmanship and capability among the other coaches of the city.

Les Fields, coach of second team football, was assigned to East in 1942, but soon afterward entered the Armed Forces as Physical Education instructor. In 1944, he returned and resumed his position as athletic coach. He also teaches at West Junior High School.

Handling the business affairs of the athletic department is Mr. W. S. Esther. He arranges the contests which are held each year to sell tickets.



Coach Fields shows Dick Mitchell a few pointers on shooting.

Coach Brown tapes Jim Jacks' leg before a game.

Mr. Esther talks over ticket purchases with Jack Nash.

"Beat it Out! Beat it Out!"

The Cheerleaders

Back Row: Cockell, Durossette, Fiddler, Gilio.

Ready to lead the cheers.

From year to year, the qualifications for cheerleaders change. A group of judges chose the following as this year's leaders: Dorla Durossette, Valerie Fiddler, Joyce Cockell, Joyce Gilio, Jerry Adams, Curtis Hill, Richard Delmont, and the only senior, Jack Nash. These girls and boys made their debut on October 7 leading the cheers for the crowd gathered to see the football game.

Their mascot.

Joyce and Richard.

"East High, East High, Rah! Rah! Rah!"

"Fighters, fighters, one and all . . . ."

City Hockey Champions

All work and no play . . . . so these girls really got in there and played. Edith Kline foils the Central girls and the East girls won all their games. Central hadn't been beaten in three years.

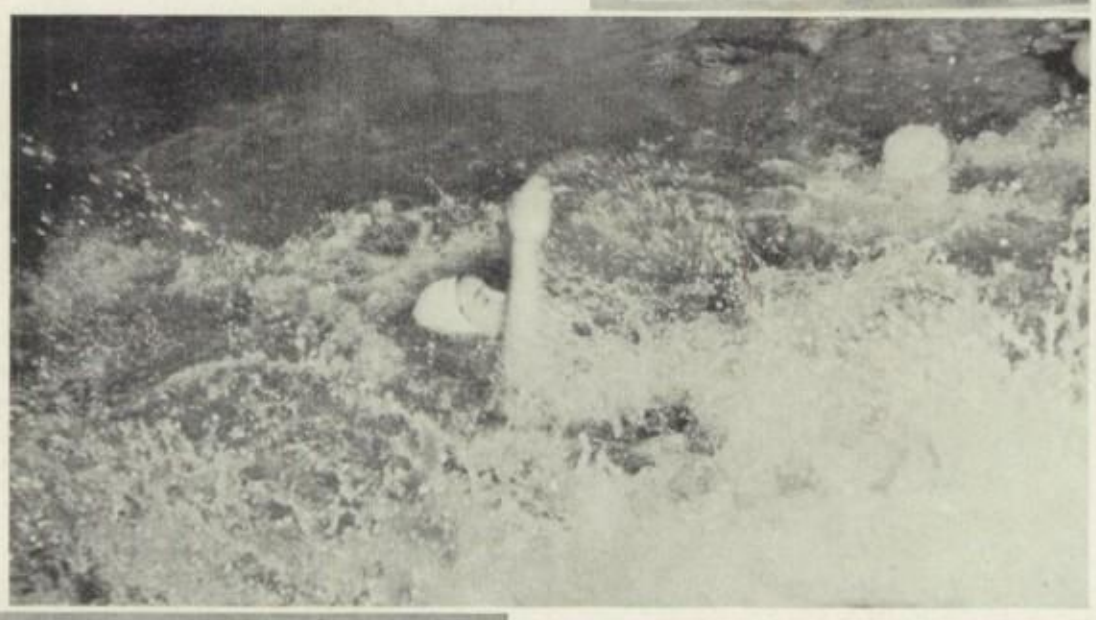
The centerpiece for the banquet following the games was this miniature hockey field made by Mrs. Dunlap and a few of the girls.

Individual Sports Day, 1949

Watch the Birdie Pat Sullivan showing her skill at badminton is shown swinging at the birdie. Pat won two games and lost one.

In the swim Barbara Danforth, East's representative does the breast stroke at Individual Sports Day.

Push! Lela Brower and Mary Rupp did equally as well in shuffleboard. The girls won two games out of three.



In there and really splashing is Ethel Auldridge in the four man relay event. The East team took first place.

Because of the weather the girls were forced to play one game in the gym, but it didn't hinder these girls. Show in the lead are Alletta Hudgens, Pat Sullivan, Martha Rupp, and Jane Biggs.
